Old Redwood Pioneer Passes On Last Friday

By D. E. O'KEEFE

Frank McEvoy passed out, on Friday entering the happy shadow of the land of the dead, that is fairer than day where all is bliss and joy for ever.

The deceased came from an old pioneer family of Redwood City whose history is interwoven with the work and enterprise of the McEvoy family whose members lived in the community since 1852.

The deceased was born on the McEvoy ranch, a portion of which comprises that part of Redwood City, known as Five Points. He was the light of day seventy years ago in a building now occupied by Harry R. Fee on Selby Lane. He went to school here and spent the greater portion of his life in this section. The deceased passed away on Friday afternoon, October 28, 1897.

By a queer twist of fate his brother, W. P. McEvoy, the brave soldier who was fatally shot in the discharge of his duty in this city, closed his eyes in death on the same day and almost the same year just thirty years ago. The death occurred late in the evening of October 28, 1897.

The late John McEvoy, father of the deceased, came to California from Australia with his family in 1849, settling in Monterey where he became connected with the U. S. military post. He was with the famous expedition of Gen. John C. Fremont which left Monterey in 1850 for San Francisco. The little band of soldiers and horsemen camped for several days on the journey to El Camino Real at the Selby ranch at Atherton. Both the general and McEvoy became enamored with the geography of the country and a treaty is told that they agreed to turn and purchase ranches in the neighborhood.

Fremont was to secure the land now known as the Selby property and McEvoy was to buy a broad acres known as the McEvoy ranch, but then a part of the new town holdings of 2200 acres. The general failed to come back, but McEvoy did and he purchased six hundred acres of the Selby ranch in 1852. The vast domain was then covered with live oaks, underbrush and chaparral. It is said that McEvoy cut enough wood from the land the first year his occupancy to pay for it. The act is now covered with homes,

PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY SET

At a special meeting of representatives from the American Legion and its auxiliary, the Spanish American War Veterans, the Merchants Association, the Intermediate School, Olive Branch, Rebekah Lodge, Exchange Club, Kiwanis club, Chamber of Commerce, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, plans were the Mesdames R. Johnson for Armistice Day, November 11.

The plans as agreed upon include a parade of all organizations taking part which will form in front of the fire house and proceed to Main street and along Main street to Broadway and thence along Broadway to the Sequoia Union High School auditorium, where the exercises will be held. The various organizations will form for the march at 10:00 next Friday morning, and the exercises at the auditorium will begin at 11 o'clock and last about an hour. The high school band will lead the line of march and the children of the various schools will participate in the parade.

Those representing the various organizations of the town at the meeting Wednesday evening were as follows:

American Legion—Frank Glebman, A. M. Donnelly, Emmet Donnelly, Tom Vernal, Dr. R. C. Frazier and Meredith Robb.

Legion Auxiliary—Mrs. Anna Robb and Mrs. R. J. Blomquist.

Spanish War Veterans—C. E. Schafer and William Gadsberry.

Merchants Association—Harry Hallett.

SEQUOIA HI WINS AND LOSES

The Sequoia High School 10s and 20s split a double bill with San Jose, Friday night, October 28, at their own gym. The San Jose 10s winning, 15 to 6, and the Sequoia 20s winning their game 21 to 8. The Sequoia 20s have so far gone through the league with a clean slate and will try hard to do the same to the end. Both of the games Friday night were rather slow. All through the game the Sequoia 20s outplayed San Jose, showing the prettiest bit of defense work seen on the local floor this year. At the end of the first half Sequoia 10s were in the lead 6 to 5 but San Jose pulled through in the second half, scoring 15 more points.

The Sequoia 20s have so far been undefeated, standing first in the league. The time league is led by San Jose.

This Friday night, November 4, the Indians play San Mateo in the San Mateo gymnasium.

Sequoia's 10's Line-up: Morzan (c); F. Dillard, F. Lulu C. Shino G. Blackman, G.

San Jose 10's Line-up: Pizzo, F. Maffey, (c), F. Ross, C. Jio, B. Flores, G.

Sequoia 20's Line-up: Britschgi (c); F. Darnell, F. Campagne, C. Delacey, G. Bigler staff, G.

San Jose 20's Line-up: Burbank, F. Stark, F. Logan, C. Gordon G. Rondoni, G.

LOCAL MAN DROPS DEAD IN STORE

William Schoelles, proprietor of the Sequoia Pharmacy on Broadway, was stricken suddenly while waiting on a customer at his store on Wednesday, and passed away before any help could be rendered. Schoelles was rushed to the Redwood City hospital, where an inhalator of the fire department was used but without effect.

An inquest and autopsy held at the parlors of Laying & Tinney Wednesday afternoon showed that Schoelles came to his death from natural causes.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Schoelles, two young children, Olga and Mand Schoelles and by his father, mother, two sisters and a brother, who are in New York. The Schoelles were residents of this city for about three years at one time known the deceased was employed in the Ryan drug store. They later left for their home in New York following the death of a little daughter, Louisa, who was drowned while swimming.

Schoelles about a year ago returned to California and purchased the San Carlos pharmacy in San Carlos, and later opened the Sequoia Pharmacy here last August.

Funeral services for the deceased will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will be conducted by Redwood City Lodge No. 168 F. & A. M. at the Masonic Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Schoelles Sr. left New York yesterday and will arrive here on Monday.

CEMENT CO. WINS FIRST AID PRIZE

The first aid team of the local plant of the Portland Cement Co. emerged from the first aid contest at Los Angeles this week with two distinctions. One was that of being the youngest team in point of experience to enter the contest. The other, and more important one, was that of being the winning team.

The first aid contest was held under the auspices of the California Society of Safety Engineers part of the state in a preliminary experience in a contest some months ago when it met a number of other teams from the northern part of the state in a preliminary contest in San Francisco.

In this contest the team was awarded second place in the northern California district.

In the meeting at Los Angeles this week the team from the local plant was in competition with the best teams of the state. They were awarded the silver cup presented by the manufacturing division of the society. The members of the winning teams were: Harry Stephens, captain; J. Hunt, T. Ryder, J. Tinkington, E. J. Halerow, W. Norton and M. Haynie. A. W. Robinson is team judge.

DAVID MOORE PASSES AWAY HERE SATURDAY

Funeral services were held on Monday by Redwood City Lodge No. 168 F. & A. M. for David Eugene Moore, who passed away Saturday at his home on Jackson street after many months of illness and suffering. The services of the order were conducted by Past Master W. A. Crowell, while Rev. R. J. Currie of the local Congregational church delivered a eulogy on the deceased. Interment was in the family plot in the Pescadero cemetery.

The deceased was 69 years of age. He was born in Pescadero, and was a member of one of the pioneer families of the county. As a boy Moore learned the trade of butter and cheese making, and became an expert and authority in this line of work. When not engaged in this trade he worked at the lumber mills which at that time were quite common on the coastside of the county.

It was while he was working for Hayward in his mill on Pescadero creek that the romance began which culminated in his marriage to Miss Mary Hayward, daughter of the mill owner. The couple had two children, Harry Moore, now a resident of this city, and a daughter, now Mrs. Floyd Witherly of Mission San Jose.

In 1902 owing to Mrs. Moore's ill health, the family left their home in Pescadero and came to Redwood City, where Mr. Moore secured a position with the Tacoma Lumber Co. He remained with this concern for 18 years, leaving it to accept a position as janitor of the county court house.

In the latter capacity Moore was a familiar figure in the various county offices. Always courteous and friendly in his relations with those with whom he came in contact, he was popular and well liked by all who knew him.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Moore, by his son and daughter, and by three brothers: Eli, and William Moore of Pescadero and Joseph Moore of Sonoma, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Steele of Pescadero.

PERCY LONG ELECTED TO HEAD ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting of the Redwood City Merchants Association held Monday evening, officers were elected for the coming year. Percy Long, member of the firm of Stafford and Long was elected president of the organization, succeeding D. R. Stafford, who has been president since the organization of the association last year.

Long, who has served as vice-president for the past year, was succeeded in that capacity by Mary McArthur. Clarence Choate of Hull Bros., Inc., was elected treasurer and P. E. Brand, D. R. Stafford, Carl Stoner and Carl Wagner were elected as directors of the association.

Plans were discussed for the new year and a number of suggestions made by S. A. Gray, secretary of the organization, were referred to the new board of directors.

GED MAN DROWNS IN SHALLOW DITCH

Believed to have fallen from a bridge across a branch of the Redwood creek in an epileptic fit, John Mirragou, aged 60, drowned in a small pool of water not far from the S. P. station some time last night. Mirragou was a native of France, but had been found for this section for many years and was quite well known here. He had been working for a meat contractor.

The deceased was the father of Mrs. Alice Estacall of this city, who is also survived by a son, John Mirragou, Jr. His wife, Mary Mirragou passed away several years ago.

An inquest was held at the home of Mrs. Crowe undertaking parlors Wednesday afternoon. From the testimony of the witnesses it was determined that the deceased had been taken from epilepsy for some time, it was decided that this had caused his death. His body was found a short distance above a bank across the creek used as a drain and connecting a short-cut across the tract known as "Butcher field." It is supposed that he fell from the plank and was carried into the deeper pool of the tide.

Funeral services for the deceased were held at the James Crowe parlors yesterday followed by interment in Union cemetery.

COUNTY ENGINEER KNEESE EXPLAINS ROAD PROCEEDURE

The matter of the extension and widening of the Alameda de las Pulgas was comprehensively discussed before a mass meeting of citizens at the Intermediate school Friday night by County Engineer George Kneese. The meeting was called by the Redwood City Improvement Club for the purpose of securing definite information relative to the procedure proposed and the manner of financing the road.

Kneese was introduced by Merion Hughes, president of the club. He explained the procedure which the board of supervisors could take for improving the road, under the Matton Act, and also showed some of the benefits which would accrue to property along the proposed road. The steps which the supervisors have already taken were also reviewed by the county engineer.

Other speakers who addressed the meeting on various phases of the subject were Attorney Norman A. Malcom of Palo Alto, Attorney Gilbert Perrell of Burlingame, whose home is in this city, Fred Drake, president of the San Mateo County Chamber of Commerce.

Another meeting is scheduled for the Improvement Club in the near future when further discussion will be invited.

MATTOON ACT DISCUSSED BEFORE SERVICE CLUB

The Mattoon Act and its relation to the proposed Alameda de las Pulgas road was discussed by Robert Klassen, assistant county engineer before the members of the Redwood City Exchange Club Tuesday evening at the Golden Blossom Cafe.

Special entertainment and decoration in keeping with the Halloween season were provided by the entertainers committee. Several vocal solos by Adolph Kenney were enjoyed by the members of the service club.

P. A. Ryan was the chairman of the evening.

Mrs. Miles Sharkey was chairman of the committee in charge of the card party given Tuesday evening in Foresters hall.

FOUR OPERETTAS

Four operettas "Freshies," "Lady Frances," "Heads Off," and "The Nittie Shop," to be given free of charge as a courtesy to the community on November 5th at 8:15 p. m. in the Sequoia Union High School auditorium will be presented by the boys' and girls' choral classes under the direction of Otis M. Carrington, composer of the operettas. These operettas will furnish part of the alumni Home-coming entertainment to be given the same night.

The cast of the operettas are as follows:

SEQUOIA JUNIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT COMEDY

The annual Junior class production is to be presented at the Sequoia Union High School auditorium on the evening of December 3. The play to be staged is a comedy by John Kirkpatrick, named "The Book of Charm."

The cats have been rehearsing daily under the direction of Mrs. Balcomb, the school's dramatic head and Mrs. Kalenborn, Junior class advisor.

"The Book of Charm" was produced at Stanford last year and was pronounced a success and according to the coaches and the few who have witnessed the rehearsals the results will be the same here, with a record and laughing attendance.

Tickets will be sold at two prices; the best seats will go at 75 cents; the others at the usual charge of 50 cents.

WILL OF C. de GUIGNE FILED FOR PROBATE

The last will and testament of Christian deGuigne, who died in San Francisco on September 28 last was filed for probate in the superior court yesterday. The will is dated January 29, 1924. It consists of real and personal property and cash, stocks and bonds. By the terms of the will, the father of the deceased, Christian deGuigne and the Wells Fargo Bank are named as executors. W. C. Scott, an employee is left the sum of $3,000. The rest of the estate is left to the executors and the Union Trust Company to act as trustees for the son of the deceased, Christian deGuigne. The trust is to educate and care for the son. When he arrives at the age of 25 he is to receive half of the estate, and the other half when he reaches thirty years. Should he die before the testator then the property is to be left in equal shares to the nieces and nephews of the decedent. In the event of the son dying after the father then the trust is to be dissolved and the property given to the wife and children of the son.

SEPUOIA FOOTBALL SQUAD ENTERTAINED AT PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. James Gould entertained at their home last Saturday evening for the members of the football team of Sequoia High School. Dancing and games made the evening pass swiftly. Punch was served and later chocolate icecream footballs with white "S" were served to the guests. Several of the players' jerseys decorated the house. In a novel way. The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Dimick, Mr. and Mrs. S. Mayo and the Misses Valerie Basso, Annie Stacy, Harriet Leahy, Doris Price, Bertha Hinman, Sylvia MacGlaughlin, Katherine Aylward, Flora Basso, Virginia Allen, Murie Dearborn, Dorothy Repton, Margaret Richter, Matilda Tranter, Margaret Alexander, Marguerite Shearer and Messrs. National Guardsmen Ready to Defend New York

Demonstrating the manner in which a night attack on New York would be warded off, National Guardsmen rehearsed an anti-aircraft battle in Times square, in connection with a big military tournament. Inflammable material on the "attacking" plane was set afire and the plane dropped 1,500 feet.

This Goose Lays a Golden Egg Each Day

The goose shown here beside the hospital interne was the property of Mrs. Mary Gramewski, a poor widow of Perth Amboy, N. J. She received free medical treatment at St. Michael's hospital in Newark, and, wishing to show her gratitude, contributed her mite—this goose—to the institution when it started its drive to raise $800,000. A campaign worker, struck by a brilliant idea, raffled it off. It was won by a patient, who turned it back to the campaigners. Now Miss Goose is raffled off daily, bringing in an average of $300 every 24 hours.

Chicago May Buy the Mrs. O'Leary Home

It is suggested that the city of Chicago acquire the site on which lived Mrs. O'Leary and the famous cow that is credited with starting the Chicago fire of 1871 by kicking over a lantern. This has been referred to the real estate committee of the city council. A tablet commemorating the fire was placed at the spot some years ago by the Chicago Historical society.

May Inherit Two Billion Fortune

If their grandfather, George Emerich of Boston, is declared to be a direct descendant of a former partner of John Jacob Astor, these children may share in a fortune estimated now at two billion dollars. The estate has been accumulating for 70 years.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

A light winter for California and Nevada, with a water shortage next summer, is forecast by Captain Pete, grizzled leader of the Washoe Indians. Captain Pete says the present crop is very light, fur-bearing animals have not grown the usual heavy pelts, and that bears show no indication of seeking their retreats. The old warrior has long been the medicine chief of his tribe and last year predicted big snow.

Strongly reflecting the influence of the tourist trade in California, this state stood third on the list of new hotel construction for the United States, Canada, England and Panama during the first six months of the current year, according to an analysis of building reports prepared for Henry O. Wheeler, vice-president of the John M. C. Marble Company, Los Angeles financial house.

C. A. Teutschel, manager of the traffic department of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, has received advice from the Southern Pacific Company that it has applied to the railroad commission for authority to reduce rates seven cents per 100 pounds on canned goods in carload lots from Sacramento to Los Angeles harbor points. The same reduced rate now is in effect from San Francisco and bay district points to Los Angeles.

The California Supreme Court will sit for the first time in eight years at San Francisco. This became evident last week with the issuance of an order by Chief Justice William H. Wiste, assigning the six associate justices to two departments. Assignment of extra judges to the district court in appeal with the resultant increase in legal business is given by Judge Wiste as the reason for the step.

Under the sponsorship of the United States Navy, the University of California College of Mining is starting a research campaign to overcome the corrosive effects of sea water on ship metal, perhaps by surface protection or by alloy of the metal used, according to an announcement made last week by Dean F. H. Probert, who will direct the work.

Motorists planning trips over Sierra roads were warned last week by the touring bureau of the California State Automobile association to secure latest weather and road reports before starting. Latest reports to the association are that none of the passes have been closed as yet but that rains of the past few days have been particularly heavy in some mountain sections. Motorists are advised to be equipped with skid chains for Sierra trips.

What appears to be a satisfactory substitute for rubber has been discovered by the Bureau of Standards. It was announced last week at Washington, D. C. It is called Guayule rubber and is produced from a shrub grown in Mexico and near Salinas, California. Investigation to find a rubber substitute was ordered by the Commerce Department in an effort to break the British monopoly plantation rubber. Further tests will be made to determine the commercial possibilities of Guayule rubber.

A fast through highway connecting San Francisco and Los Angeles in a direct route that avoids cities, towns and congested districts is practical, according to information furnished the California Highway Development Association in a report and study completed by the engineering division of the California Highway Commission. The highway, which is being jointly advocated by the California Highway Development Association and the West Side Highway Association, will provide northern and southern California with a two-track road built along lines that will be revolutionary in road design.

California's first experiment in housing convicts in dormitories to relieve crowded conditions at the two State prisons, as suggested recently at a session of the gubernatorial cabinet, will be undertaken at once, Bert B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, announced last week. The first prison dormitory will be constructed at Folsom State penitentiary, Meek said, and money for the work has been made available.

Real estate holdings of 13-year-old Jackie Coogan were increased last week to approximately $1,500,000 when the announced purchase of 14 lots for which the youthful film star, through his representatives, paid $100,000 in cash. In addition to the newly acquired lots Jackie holds title to a business block valued in excess of $300,000, two ranches, a public garage and numerous residences.

The senate assembly joint water investigation committee is not ready to endorse any definite plan for statewide water conservation and distribution, nor is it recommending at this time any particular manner of financing the dam and reservoir construction necessary to a co-ordinated water project for California. Assemblyman Bradford C. Crittenden of Tracy, committee chairman, so declared last week at the conclusion of the committee's inspection tour of proposed Sacramento Valley reservoir sites. A San Joaquin Valley and Delta district tour will begin December 5.

California's greatest natural resource is her scenery, and the State should take definite steps to preserve that resource for posterity by creating numerous State parks. Such is the opinion of Captain Charles G. Sauer, field representative for the National Conference on State Parks, as expressed last week before a luncheon meeting of the Forestry and Wild Life section of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco. Captain Sauer, superintendent of State Parks in Indiana, is in San Francisco on a lecture tour in the interests of parks.

Prior to leaving for Washington last week Congressman C. F. Lea received word that the secretary of the interior had confirmed the transfer of Whaler Island, just opposite Crescent City, Del Norte County, to the county of Del Norte. The island, which is about three acres in size, is solid rock and it will be made into a public wharf.

The famous exhibit of Siskiyou County gold valued at $100,000 will be sent to the Pacific Trade and Travel Exposition to be held at San Francisco shortly, by the Lions Club of Yreka, together with a band of Klamath Indians. This is announced by the Foreign Trade Club.

Some 5,000 barbers who have failed to apply for licenses under the new barbers' license act are scheduled for a close shave at the hands of the State unless they have made application for same. C. E. Rynearson, secretary of the State Board of Barber Examiners, warned last week.

The 1923 planting season will likely see considerable numbers of almond, pear and apricot trees set out in Colusa county. Two or three hundred more acres of pears are in prospect at Mills Orchard at Maxwell, while the Arbuckle districts expect to continue their apricot and almond planting. This is according to T. A. Willis, county horticultural commissioner.

A bean pod three feet, 11 inches in length, produced in the home garden of Mrs. Viola Gibson of Yuba City, Sutter county, is on exhibition in the office of the horticultural commissioner. The variety is the Guinea. Mrs. Gibson says. At two feet long the beans in the pod are regarded as a table delicacy. The pod is not unlike a gourd.

A. W. Farrall of the University Farm, Davis, chairman of the National Committee on Dairy Machinery of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, has just notified the Pacific Slope Dairy Show of the proposed program for the meeting of the western section of the committee to be held in connection with the Dairy Show at Oakland. The meeting will be at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, November 19, that being the last day of the Dairy Show.

Two Santa Clara county communities have joined the ranks of California cities with standardized traffic codes by adoption of the uniform traffic ordinance. They are Palo Alto and Santa Clara. This brings to 43 the number of cities which have made effective the uniform code sponsored by the two motoring organizations of the State, the California Public Safety Conference and other organizations. With advancement of the uniform traffic law movement as its main objective, the California Municipal Traffic League, the state-wide organization of city officials dealing with traffic problems, will hold its second annual convention in Los Angeles, November 18, 19 and 20. It was announced by Supervisor Charles F. Todd of San Francisco, president of the league.

Contributions of new fruits, flowers and shrubs to the wealth of the world that may exceed the value of the introductions he made during his whole lifetime make up the legacy Luther Burbank left to the world. This belief grew out of a survey now being completed by horticultural experts from the Stark Research Laboratories of the trees and plants which Burbank had stored, without introducing them, on his experiment farms at Santa Rosa and Sebastopol.

Orders to arrest any person traveling past a school house, where children are either entering or leaving, at a speed in excess of fifteen miles an hour, were issued to all state traffic officers last week by Frank G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles. Snook announced that a check of the records revealed that more than twenty school children were either killed or injured by motor vehicles during the first two weeks of school.

Newspapermen from all California will assemble in San Francisco on November 11 and 12 for the annual business meeting of the California Press Association. It was announced last week by the executive committee of the organization. Headquarters during the convention will be at the Manx Hotel, with meetings and business sessions scheduled for Native Sons' Hall on Mason street.

With health agents engaged in a preliminary survey of the situation, California's new program of state air in rehabilitation of crippled children is under way and the actual work of removing the physical handicaps of needy youngsters is soon to begin. Outlining the humanitarian plan financed by the last legislature, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the State Department of Public Health, announced establishment of clinics is planned as soon as the present survey reveals the number of children whose condition demands assistance.

The epidemic of infantile paralysis, which assumed alarming proportions throughout the state a few weeks ago, is on the decline, according to an announcement by the State Department of Public Health.

The new $350,000 building of the Shasta Union high school at Redding was occupied last week for the first time, with 435 students in attendance in charge of twenty teachers. J. S. Osborn, who has been principal for sixteen years, remains at the head of the institution. The old building, now abandoned, was erected twenty-five years ago.

An instrument designed to perform the function of a ship's sextant in air-planes or on small ships where chart rooms and facilities for lengthy computations are not available, has just been developed by an assistant in the Astronomy Department of the University of California, by H. B. Kaster. The new instrument will require more ability for observing, and will cost more than the sextant. It is not believed probable that it will displace the sextant, but it is expected to be of great value to the future of air navigation.

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Freshness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Just one warning: it is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

CITIZENS DETERMINE LEVEL OF NATION

THE strength of a nation is determined by the individual citizens and a high order of citizenship is vital to any nation, said Commissioner General of Immigration, Harry E. Hull, in an address before the United German Societies of New York. The public schools must be kept at the highest point of efficiency. He said in part:

"The acid test of any civilization is the men and women it produces and the manner of their living. The citizenry of any nation is the first and last line of national defense.

"To keep our people at a high level of vigor and character we must rely first of all on our native born citizens and this citizenship must be sustained by our homes and schools. We must maintain everlasting vigil over our educational system, so that none but the highest ideals of conduct are taught to our children. It goes without saying that every home must keep this same unrelenting vigil."

In regard to naturalization and immigration, Mr. Hull said, "We now have on the statute books a law expressing the nation's determination to maintain the high quality of its citizenship. This is the restrictive immigration law we have established to insure that future contributions to our citizenship shall measure up to the proper standards."

"We have fortunately recognized, at last, the safeguards needed to keep our national stock sturdy and free from decay. The time had come when we could not admit, without grave social and economic danger, the full tide of immigration poured on our shores from the rest of the world.

"For the safety of the newcomer as well as of the native American, we had to limit the number seeking employment and opportunity among us. Without such proper limits, employment and opportunity would have sunk out of sight in the millions thrown here in competition for them."

"It is only in comparatively recent years," the commissioner said further, "that the importance and necessity of advising aliens as to the rights and duties conferred by citizenship have been fully realized. The immigrant needs to be made aware not only of his privileges, but of his obligations—his oath of allegiance to his adopted country."

"He must be educated and encouraged to an intelligent understanding of the leading public questions. He must show himself loyal to our flag. He must come to a realization that the franchise is a right to be exercised only for patriotic purposes, and by no means something to be viewed from a mercenary standpoint."

A NEW INTIMACY OF NATIONS

The information that the American Telephone & Telegraph Company has opened communication between the United States and several Mexican cities, following upon the recent completion of telephone communication between the United States, Great Britain and other European points is of the utmost importance. It heralds a day, probably closer than most of us realize, when world distances will be conquered and the limitations of space done away with.

Bell talked to a man in the next room, and the world rose in homage to the achievement. Soon people in large cities could talk with their neighbors, then lines were strung from one locality to another, culminating in the transcontinental service we are all used to. And now its transoceanic. There is a great romance and a great achievement in the story of the American telephone, and recent developments show that the system keeps one jump ahead of the times as it always has. A new age of international understanding, a new intimacy of nations, is in the making.

EDUCATION WEEK

EDUCATION is the foundation upon which the country has been built, the factor through which it has attained prosperity and good government. It is through the public schools that the ideals of America, the principles of government, the ability to make good, industrious and patriotic citizens are instilled into the character of the child. In recognition of this and "to acquaint the public with the actual work of the schools, with their ideals, and achievements, and their needs," the week of November 7-14 has been set aside as Education Week. It is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, and by action of the World Federation of Education Association as its Toronto meeting was recommended for observance throughout the nations of the world. Monday is to be known as Health Day; Tuesday, as Home and School Day; Wednesday, Know Your School Day; Thursday, School Opportunity Day; Friday, Armistice and Citizenship Day; and Saturday, Community Day.

It is indeed appropriate that Armistice Day should be incorporated into this week. It marks the end of a struggle during which many thousands ands of lives were sacrificed "to make the world safe for democracy."

"THE WORST IS YET TO COME" Wellington

The struggle must be carried on that they will not have suffered hardships, endured pain and death in vain, not, it is true, with guns and implements of warfare but through the public schools.

The perfection of the public school system, giving an equal opportunity to every child, will be the greatest and most lasting monument that can be erected to those whose graves give mute testimony of the great sacrifice they made.

Candidates Start Work For 1928 Campaign

POLITICAL KETTLE BEGINS TO SIMMER

By ESTO BRIGHTON

SACRAMENTO, November 2—

The political pot has already begun to boil and prospective candidates from president to assemblyman are boiling merrily although elections are a year off. A significant incident to show which way the administration wind is blowing in the on-coming senatorial fight occurred this week when Governor C. C. Young toured the upper Sacramento valley with Senator Hiram W. Johnson, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

One state official went east and one went west and each brought back political gossip. But like all gossip—this tale never runs the same.

"Hoover is the best presidential bet!" says Ray L. Liley, state controller, just back from the national taxation conference at Toronto, Canada, and a swing around through the Atlantic and southern states.

"The east is a unit for California's candidate, Herbert Hoover, everywhere you go it is Hoover, who is mentioned," Ray insisted. But State Harbor Commissioner Paul Scharrenberg, recently returned from the Conference on Pacific Relations at Honolulu, where he exchanged views with politicians from far and wide, says that Hoover is really out of the running. California is having her little boom for her favorite son but in time the Who's Who pick presidents, will choose somebody else.

Both agree, however, that Vice-president Hiram W. Johnson must be considered, that Lowden is out of the running, and that Speaker Nicholas Longworth, who married into one presidential family may have ambitions to establish one of his own.

Over its tea cups, or what ever festival bowl is used in Sacramento, the capitol is still discussing the varied stories, some of which sound rather fishy, emanating from the Fish and Game Commission.

"Ask me another?" is the usual answer to the queries: What did I. Zellerbach, president of the

GOLF AND GROW GRACEFUL

Mother's Job

BY O. LAWRENCE HAWTHORNE

No sooner do the early rays of daylight peek through the windows where our children sleep, Than someone calls her back from fitful slumber. A mother's daily vigilance to keep. "Oh, Mother, Phil's awake!" Dick yells, "Come, see him!" "Say, Mother," Bower shouts, "Bob's got my tie!" And so her day begins—a day of service, Where duties press and problems multiply.

It's Mother's job, it seems, to do the thinking For all her boys—and sometimes for their Dad! It's Mother's job to answer all the questions, To know exactly where each careless lad Has left each toy, each article of clothing. It's Mother's job to tell them what to eat, And when, and how (an ever-vexing problem); And Mother must prepare each festive treat.

Oh, what an endless drudgery of mending The garments that are, somehow, torn each day! Oh, what a task of mending little heartaches, And healing little bodies bruised at play! A mother's job is one of constant service, And yet each moment brings her heart new joy; Her only genuine delight in living Is caring for her baby girl or boy.

Governor Orders Survey of Blind

COUNTIES TO AID IN AID IN CAUSE

By CLEM WHITTAKER

SACRAMENTO, November 2—

Needy blind, sightless and helpless in their old age, would be far happier among friends and familiar surroundings in their own counties than in state institutions, where every contact reminds them of their affliction.

Expressing this conviction, Governor Young has ordered a survey of conditions among the blind in California to determine if some means can be found whereby persons who have lost their sight can remain in their home localities.

There are more than 7,000 blind persons in the state, Earl Jensen, state director of institutions, told the governor and the State Industrial Home for the Blind at Oakland is no longer able to cope with the situation adequately.

Counties have shown too great a tendency to transfer their blind to the state home, merely to be relieved of the burden, rather than with the interest of the individual at heart, Jensen reported. The Oakland institution, he added, no longer is an industrial training center to any great extent, but has become made a poorhouse for the blind.

Both Governor Young and Jensen expressed the hope that the counties would attempt to assist the state in coping with the problem. The state, it was brought out, contemplates an attempt to teach the blind useful work so that they can become self-supporting to a large degree. It is also hoped that a state sales room can be established to market products turned out by the blind.

Incidentally, a constitutional amendment will go on the ballot next year which would permit the state to allow state aid for needy Valley, whose health demands that he rest after rounding out 8 years in the state Senate.

The masculine exclusiveness of the Senate promises to remain untouched since Mrs. Cora Woodbridge, for three terms a member of the lower house, who considered flinging her hat into the ring with Ingram's retirement, has exercised her feminine prerogative and decided to seek her old seat in the Assembly again.

blind, Senator H. H. Christian of Hayward, was the author of the amendment.

Five counties made direct appropriations during the year just ended for the aid of the blind. Jensen reported, among them Solano, which contributed $360 toward the support of two sightless citizens; Alameda contributed $10,905; Los Angeles, $31,302; Sacramento, $2340; San Francisco, $15,025.

And the following counties, said the report to the governor, provide for the blind out of their general funds: Colusa, Contra Costa, $15,025.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS

INTERESTING DISCUSSION

An enjoyable meeting of the Redwood City Woman's Club was held yesterday afternoon at the club house on Clinton street. There was a meeting of the board of directors at one o'clock, followed by a business meeting and talks on current events at two o'clock. The following women gave talks on interesting topics:

Foreign Affairs—Mrs. M. P. Moulton; Science and Invention—Mrs. R. Morris; Music—Mrs. K. Forman; New Books—Mrs. E. L. Kibbourne; The Woman of Today—Mrs. Charles Cassingham. Mrs. F. M. Perkins is chairman of the current events section. Following the business meeting Miss Adrienne Morris sang a group of songs and Mrs. Roy Hoberger gave the third of a series of talks on the fitness and purpose of interior decorating. Mrs. Hoberger is chairman of the art section of the club. Open discussion of interior decorating by members of the club followed. The hostesses for the afternoon were the Mesdames R. Johnson, W. E. LaDue and L. Kirkpatrick.

Miss Adelaide Butts entertained a group of friends at her home on Pennsylvania avenue Tuesday evening. Bridge was played, at which Miss Margaret Cullen and Miss Janet Becker won high scores. The guests were Mesdames Chas. Rockwell, Joseph Warren of San Francisco, Milton Johnson, Sam Winkler and Clara Bean, and the Mesdames Dolores Lyons, June Rosland, Janet Becker, Betsy Graves, Cally Woodie, Margaret Cullen, Harriet Greenwood, Helen Heiner, Marie Pauline O'Connell, Bernice Schow and Ruth McMurray.

John E. Layng and Roscoe Stevens left Wednesday for Hollywood to attend the California convention of Kiwanis Clubs. Layng and Stevens are president elect and district trustee elect of the Redwood City club and for that reason are being sent to the convention as representatives of the Redwood City Club.

The local lodge of the Fraternal Aid Union will hold a card party in the Foresters hall Tuesday evening. Miss Pearl Beer is chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Mrs. Harry Potts is chairman of a committee which is making arrangements for a card party to be given in the Odd Fellows hall on Friday evening, November 18, by General George S. Evans Post No. 36, Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. George H. Hinton is chairman of the committee in charge of the card party to be given by the Redwood City Woman's Club on Tuesday evening of next week at the club house on Clinton street. Mrs. Hinton will be assisted by Mrs. L. Duxsee, Mrs. A. H. Reith, Mrs. Willis G. Frost, Mrs. J. Heckendorn and Mrs. Donald Bogle. Proceeds are to be given to the loan fund of Sequoia Union High School.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wallace of Stratford streets and Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Clattenberg went to Los Angeles last week end to attend the California U. S. C. football game in the southern city. They returned to Redwood City Sunday. While south they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore, who visited at the Wallace home here last summer.

Miss Helen Donnelly entertained a group of friends at a Halloween party at her home on Birch street Monday evening. Games and dancing were the diversions of the evening. The guest list included the Mesdames Pauline O'Brien, Olive Payne, Margaret McCarthy, Marjorie Henry, Mary Schmidt, Mary Donovan, Mary Donnelly, Lizette O'Brien, Louise Graf, Lorraine Brannon, Linda Malvino, Kathleen McCarthy, Joseph Graf, Josephine Anderson, June Zelman, Inez Jamieson, Grace Maloney, Dolores Furman, Donalda Danz, Alice McCarthy, Buddy Donnelly, Aileen Collins and Cecelia Roveta.

After a visit of two months in the east, Mrs. E. R. Whitehead has returned to her home on Duane street. Mrs. Whitehead returned via New Orleans.

There will be a public card party at the home of Mrs. W. R. Johnson, 322 Spruce street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The party is to be given by the Sewing Circle of the Ladies Auxiliary of Canton No. 9. Score cards will be 25 cents.

F. P. Osborn spent the week-end visiting friends and relatives in Stockton and Lodi.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cooksen were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Coleman at their home in San Carlos recently.

COMMITTEE MAKES PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS TREE

The committee for Redwood City's Christmas Tree met in the fire house auditorium last Friday evening. Election of officers took place and plans laid for the card party to be given on December 2 in the fire hall. The committee elected for the card party is Mrs. J. Kelling, chairman, Mrs. A. Kincaid, Mrs. George H. Hinton, Mrs. Elizabeth Gould, Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Mrs. Joseph Goertz, Mrs. K. Peterson. The officers for the Christmas Tree committee were elected as follows: Bert Werder, chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Gould, vice-chairman; John M. Robb, secretary; and Louis Behrens, treasurer. The tree will be in the same location as last year in the center of Hamilton street, between Broadway and Pennsylvania avenue, on the evening of Saturday, December 17.

Miss Janice Jackson, who will leave in the near future for New York, was honored at a Halloween party last Saturday evening, given by Miss Helen Conner at her home on Hopkins avenue. Those invited to bid farewell to Miss Jackson were the Mesdames Barbara Graves, Dorel Maninat, LaJuna Accord, Marion MacLachlan, Janet Harmondson, Elsie Swanson, Ruth Heiner and Hazel Smith and Messrs Raymond Dixon, Carl Britschgi, Terry Kellogg, Clarence Molten, Arthur Israel, Jack Morgan, Larry Heiner, Merl Stokes and Robert Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowell recently returned from a visit to Truckee, Lake Tahoe and vicinity. They report that six inches of snow fell on the last day of their visit there.

A costume dance was given last night by the Booster Committee of Rebekah Lodge for members and their friends. A fine of ten cents was imposed against all those not appearing in costume. Many original and amusing costumes were seen.

SEQUOIA HI

WINS TWO 1ST PLACES

Sequoia Times won two of the contests open at the California Scholastic Press Association convention, held at Stanford university, Saturday, November 29. Earning the rating of the best all-round newspaper in schools under a 1000 and for the best front page make-up, the Times was awarded two silver cups.

Delegates representing Sequoia Union High School who attended the convention were Mauricia Mayer, Beatrice Olyne, Ed Coleman, Lorin Denney and Miss Schmidt, as faculty advisor of the Times.

Two years ago, Sequoia won the silver cup for the best feature story and the best paper in its class. This is the third consecutive year in which the local school has been declared the best newspaper in its class in the state, and it is the second time that two first places have been awarded to Redwood City in one year.

Growers Convention to be Held at Stockton

INTERESTING
BEING ARRANGED

Producers, shippers and agricultural leaders from every section of the state are preparing for the annual Fruit Growers Farmers Convention, which is held at Stockton, November 17, with C. H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, presiding.

Hecke's report of the year made by his department for the past year, Mayor Ray Wheeler of Stockton, will make the delegates to the convention.

The program, as announced by Hecke, includes problems of general interest, among them the Federal Bureau of Investigation, State Marketing Program, University of California Marketing Program, and the problems of the State Department of Agriculture at Davis with the Federal Marketing Program, and the problems of the State Department of Agriculture at Davis with the Federal Marketing Program.

Senator C. C. Young will be present on the evening of the convention, with Senator Frank McFarland, author of the "farm reapportionment act," and Ralph P. Merritt, managing director of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers Association, Fresno, as principal speakers.

S. C. Day of Loomis, president of the Canning Peach Growers' Association, will discuss the marketing of canned peaches as one of the main addresses of the second day. In view of the "peach price war" of the season just ended, this address probably will provoke more serious discussion than any other.

E. H. Richmond of San Jose, of the Richmond-Chase Company, also is scheduled to speak on the canning and dried fruit situation, followed by his fellow townsmen, C. D. Cavallaro, president of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, and Fred Cornohl, Oroville grower. He will deal with the olive situation.

George B. Walsh, through his attorney, Jas. T. O'Keefe, has applied in the Superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of William Middleton, who died at the Community hospital on October 29th. The estate consists of money in the Bank of Italy amounting to $404.46. The only heir at law is a brother, Patrick Middleton, residing in Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tuggle left for their home in Stockton last Saturday after spending a week with Mrs. E. P. Rice of 928 Stambaugh street.

OWNERSHIP

THE first prehistoric man to become a manufacturer owned his own tools—rough instruments of flint made with his own hands.

As industry developed and crude tools gave way to more costly and more complex machinery, men separated themselves into groups—owners of tools and users of tools. Out of this separation grew industrial problems, and in their solution, the trend has been toward a wider ownership of the tools of industry by those who use them.

Industry's most useful tool in America, the telephone, is owned by those it serves. Bell System securities are distributed among 800,000 investors, nearly all of whom are telephone users. The stock of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. is held by more than 420,000 owners, and no individual owns as much as 1%. In this nationwide ownership of nationwide facilities, the tool owner and tool user are identical.

An electric heater for quick warmth

The whole family will like one of these large portable electric heaters—mother for clean, quick warmth in the sewing room or for drying her hair, father for heat in the bathroom while shaving, and the children for their playroom.

An electric heater, during the cold months, keeps the family healthy. The clean, quick warmth drives away cold. Portable electric heaters are fine when you want heat without the trouble of starting the furnace or the fire.

Facts About the Telephone

The total Bell System payroll for one month (June, 1927) was $35,827,000.

The operating taxes of the Bell System for the year ending June 30, 1927, totaled $72,058,000.

The total investment in telephone plant and equipment in the United States on June 30, 1927, was $3,430,000,000.

A network of telephone lines that will open up the isolated mountain district of North Carolina is now being constructed.

More than 300,000 outward and inward Long Distance telephone calls are handled in the city of Nashville each month.

The telephone wire mileage in the United States on June 30, 1927, totaled 60,940,000 miles. Of this mileage, 7,811,000 was toll and 53,129,000 was exchange circuits.

During the past ten years there has been a gain of 45 per cent in the number of telephones in the state of West Virginia. During the same period the increase in population in the state has been only about 17 per cent.

High School NOTES

A feeling of keen competition between the classes has arisen since the averages in class attendance have been announced daily in the bulletin. So far the seniors stand highest in percentages, freshmen, second, juniors, third, and sophomores, fourth. The class that wins is to be presented with a suitable reward, according to Mr. Bogie, vice-principal of Sequoia.

The girls' council has received arm bands to be worn at play days, games, and other events such as conventions, when the girls are in charge.

Under the coaching of Mrs. Robertson the advanced dancing class is preparing a program to be given during the assembly period, November 17. A Russian dance, a solo, "Night Wind", Dutch dance, swag dance, Greek frieze and a jazz dance constitute the program.

Professor Rogers of Montezuma school for boys at Los Gatos, addressed the seniors during the half-hour period Tuesday, November 1. The theme of his topic was "International Relations."

The lectures to be given during the hour-hour period, Tuesday, November 8, are:

Freshmen—Qualifications and duties of council—Mr. Bogie. Sophomores—Obedience—Mrs. Kalenborn. Juniors—Scholarship and Scholarship Society—Mr. Bogie. Seniors—Faith—Mrs. Kalenborn.

A new seal was adopted by the Sequoia Girl Students at their last meeting. The seal which is black and white, is oval in shape with two of the spirits of S. G. S. holding their candles to the "Candle of Womanhood."

Wednesday afternoon from four to six, the second Jolly-up dance of the year was given by the S. G. S. in the upper hall of the club-room. The proceeds from this dance will go into the S. G. S. treasury.

PLEASING AND DISTINCT VOICE IS REAL ASSET

Telephone Etiquette Combination of Common Sense and Consideration

What may be called telephone etiquette, declares a writer in the Christian Science Monitor, is not limited to any arbitrary rules laid down by this or that telephone company for the instruction of its subscribers. But it is so far-reaching as to include all the general amenities of daily life now associated with the use of the telephone that make things easier and pleasanter for all concerned and, incidentally, insure the best results.

Like most rules of etiquette, the writer finds that the underlying rule of telephone etiquette is a combination of common sense and consideration for others. Co-operation is the word used in telephone circles, but it is a product of co-operation not only on the part of the one who calls, but also of the operator and of the person who answers the call.

Good manners on the telephone in its use both in business and social relations is dependent upon clear enunciation. Not only is it courteous to make oneself understood by the person answering the call, but it is necessary that the operator should understand quickly and clearly, not only the number given, but the name of the exchange. Another effect of improved enunciation is that it becomes a valuable social and business accomplishment, for, unconsciously, the intelligent use of the telephone leads to a more careful choice of words and a more pleasing tone of voice.

An upward inflection of the voice gives a cheerier air to the conversation. Brevity and conciseness on the telephone should not be mistaken for curtness or brusqueness which are always quickly noticeable at the other end of the wire and should be carefully avoided. Another element of telephone etiquette is the prompt answer to a call and in making oneself known at once, while the party who makes the call is usually the one who should end the conversation.

Good telephone manners also include thoughtfulness as to the time the calling person is on the wire and reasonable brevity in the conversation, especially when one is using a party line.

Fair, the junior and senior girls will be dressed as boys and will ask the sophomore and freshman girls, who will be dressed as girls, to attend the jinx. The music will be furnished by students from the school.

Bank of Italy Workers Share in the Profits of the Institution

They are not just employees, but CO-OWNERS if you please!

BACK of the interested, courteous, efficient service you receive from Bank of Italy employees is the proud spirit of ownership—the knowledge that they are participating in the yearly profits of the institution through their stock holdings. These Bank of Italy employees receive 40% of the net earnings of the bank through one of the most practical profit sharing plans in existence today. This plan lifts them above the status of employees into the position of being actual co-owners of California's largest bank. Just another reason why the Bank of Italy is in the front rank of great American institutions.

PROGRESS

THE PROSPERITY of a community is not measured by population, but by its civic and commercial progress.

A handful of workers achieve more than a city full of drones.

Team work is what counts in everything. A prominent football coach recently said: "Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars."

Individual ability makes great men -- shining lights, but it is mass co-operation of energetic men of civic spirit, home pride and community enterprise that builds a town's progress and prosperity.

Men of this community, be ye more than mere residents--be citizens.
The shirker says: "Let George do it." The worker say: "Let me help."

PATIENCE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I HAVE just read an account of a recent speech of Governor Brewster of Maine with reference to the development of prohibition in his state which, according to the statement quoted, it took 25 years to perfect. For years after the prohibition act was passed, the situation seemed hopeless. The sentiment in the state was almost equally divided; officers were elected who, if not pledged to ignore the law, at least made it clear that they would do so. And yet constantly the sentiment grew in favor of enforcement, officials in time became more strict, and ultimately prohibition became a fact; and today the law is rigidly enforced as Governor Brewster is convinced it will in due time. If we will be patient and keep after it, be true of national pro-

FOR THE STREET

The very last word in smart street wear is shown here. A prominent screen star is displaying to excellent advantage this street dress of metal brocade, developed in shades of blue and gold. Accordion plaited, fan-shaped, jabot and a chine collar, are features. With the attire is worn a henna-colored felt hat trimmed in a rhinestone pin.

AND NOW IT'S POLITICS

Icelander Swims Twelve Miles in Arctic Ocean
Oslo.—Swimming the English channel is mere play beside the feat of a young Icelander, Erling Palsson, who swam 12 miles to the Arctic ocean with the water at a temperature of 32.8—barely above the freezing point. He wore three bathing suits.
It is 900 years since this swim from the island of Drangoe, in the Skagerrak, to the mainland has been accomplished and that was by the legendary outlaw, Grettir. Until Palsson swam the distance nobody believed the legend, for it was regarded as impossible for a human being to endure the freezing water for the four and one-half hours necessary to cover the 12 miles.

Father Sage Says:
The ideal wife and the ideal husband are two of a kind that never make a pair.

hibition. The law has not failed, and he is sure it will not fail. Time is all that is necessary to prove this. We are impatient when an effort or a project or an innovation does not at once succeed.

I am reminded in this connection of my old professor of German. Most of us in his classes had little familiarity with any language excepting our own, and in many cases even English as it should be spoken was something near a foreign tongue. We were getting on very badly with our translations, and when it came to pronunciation, the situation was little less than hopeless. But he was a patient old man and an experienced one.

"It will come," he used to say to the stammering, halting farmer boy. "It will come. Patience and work will do it. It will come."

The old man's words have given me courage many a time during the years which have intervened since those far-away days. When I have worked at something or with somebody for a long time without seeming to get anywhere, and faith and patience are about gone, I recall the encouraging words of my old teacher, "Keep at it, and it will come."

Habits are not easily changed; custom and tradition have a tremendous hold on us, and when we attempt to change these we must not look for immediate nor for complete success.

It was my job years ago to eliminate-basing from the institution with which I was connected. It had been the custom, for I do not know how many years, to heap upon the poor freshman as soon as he got to the campus all sorts of indignities. There was no malice in it, it was just fun; but the people who needed such treatment usually escaped, and those who were shy and self-conscious and in need of encouragement, and friends, were most likely to receive the harsh introduction to college life. The college was being injured very much by the practice, and it was generally agreed that it should be stopped. There were definite rules against it; the difficulty was in enforcing them. It took five years to make any definite impression and ten to wipe out the practice. For a long time it seemed as if no progress were being made. It is so with every reform; but if we keep at the thing with patience and intelligence and persistence, it will come.

Skeleton in Armor Found in Colorado

Fort Morgan, Colo.—A skeleton, believed to be a Spanish officer of Coronado's expedition because of the kind of armor in which it was encased, was recently unearthed near La Junta, Colo., by M. O. Davis and Earl Serlett.

The skeleton was found in a sitting position, with knees up against the chest, the way Indians buried their dead, but by the armor around the skeleton it is believed it was a Spanish officer.

The skeleton may have been identified with Coronado's expedition or he may have been an officer in Villazur's expedition in 1523, which was completely annihilated by the Indians.

With the skeleton were found parts of a lance, the barrel of a gun, ivory epaulets, a number of blue and white beads, and an old-time bullet ball with a hole through the center for stringing on a thong.

The site where the skeleton was found was a debateable ground in the conflicts between France and Spain.

The land in southern Colorado was the scene of many battles after the coming of Coronado's expedition in 1540, and his attempt to civilize New Mexico resulted in the migration of the Indians into southern Colorado.

Spanish officers were often assigned to round up these runaway Indians, and it is possible that the Spanish officer whose skeleton was discovered was one sent on such a mission, and that he was killed in service.

FIVE MILLION MEMBERS IS GOAL OF RED CROSS

Organization Can Point to Splendid Work of Past Year as Proof of Merit.

The American Red Cross established new records for human service during the past year. It goes before the American people this fall with an impressive account of its stewardship. Never in the history of the United States has the country been scourged with so many disasters. With the devastating Mississippi flood heading the list of 77 catastrophes in this country, the Red Cross account of the relief provided and the hundreds of thousands helped, is the bright spot on a page of suffering. The Red Cross confidently expects to enroll 5,000,000 members in November, when its annual "Roll Call" takes place. Not only the people of this country, but the people of foreign lands are grateful and proud of the Red Cross record of mercy.

From Armistice day, November 11, to November 24, the American people will be afforded an opportunity to enroll as members, thereby showing their appreciation of the great chinery for relief which exists in America. Five million members—a modest mark when the greatness of America is considered.

When disaster strikes, the Red Cross knows no sectional limitations. State lines vanish and all that concerns the Red Cross is Americans in need of help. The country itself did a magnificent job in stemming the tide of the mighty Mississippi. The people relied upon the Red Cross to act for them. It was a mighty demonstration of human service. Never was the definition of the Red Cross as expressed by the chairman, Judge John Barton Payne, more fitting. He said: "The Red Cross merely expresses the sympathy and generosity of the American people in an organized way."

Every day in the life of the American people the Red Cross makes its influence felt. It has 3,000 separate organizations, known as chapters, existing in cities and hamlets the length and breadth of the country. The men and women who compose the membership are the leaders in their community. Every chapter is prepared for an emergency, no matter what the description. The mid-western branch of the Red Cross is located at St.

Refugee Camp for Flood Sufferers, Located at Forrest City, Ark.

Louis, the Pacific branch at San Francisco.

The past year witnessed 25 states in need of disaster relief. Floods, fires, cyclones and explosions seemed to follow one another with a malicious persistence. Never was the claim of the Red Cross to nation-wide support more clearly demonstrated than by the requests for aid from widely separated sections. While the Mississippi floods were at their height, 12 other serious disasters took place. Fixed on the utmost as it was in combating the results of the Mississippi flood, the Red Cross found the men and the supplies to send to other beleaguered communities.

And just for good measure the pleas from 20 foreign countries for help were complied with also. The heart of the nation beat quicker at the stories of suffering and devastation in the wake of the Father of Waters. Money and supplies poured in. At one time the Red Cross fed and housed 600,000 refugees. There were more than 100 refugee camps. Thousands of domestic animals, cows, pigs, mules, etc., were housed and fed. Nurses and doctors waged unrelenting war against incipient epidemics.

The Greatest Mother in the World is still looking out for her boys who served in the army and navy during the war. Nearly everyone has forgotten the war—except the thousands of men out of luck by reason of old wounds or recurrent injuries. Thousands of disabled ex-service men have spent more time on a hospital cot than they did in uniform. And the mentally shattered—doomed to a living death, most of them, look to the Red Cross with a desperation born of despair. It is not that the government has failed the boys. But government hospitalization is impersonal and aseptic because it must be, therefore the Red Cross supplies the warmth and the human touch that is essential if the ailing patient is to make an effort to recover. Every month of the year just past the Red Cross received requests for assistance from 73,000 disabled ex-service men.

Small wonder the Red Cross has its loyal legions numbering millions of admiring Americans. They will be heard from during the annual roll call, from Armistice day to Thanksgiving.

giving. And every enrollment strengthens the sinews and deepens the determination of the Red Cross to carry on.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Our Most Valuable Food

One of our most valuable foods is the skin that forms on top of milk when it is heated. This substance is lactalbumin, and is composed of tiny clots which have formed under heat and floated to the top. It is possible for babies and invalids who are unable to take any other protein to digest lactalbumin.

PITY POOR "FROSHIES"

The poor "frosh" always gets it in the neck, due to the vigilance of the sophomores and other upper classmen. Here are Richard Young, left, in ball and chain, and Ralph White, right, in the stocks, after they were found on the campus without the regular "beanie" on their heads. Both are registered freshmen of the Pasadena Junior college. White is a member of the police force.

King George's Title

The title of the king of England is "By the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India." It was recently stated that the English status of the British dominions necessitated a change in the title of the king. So far as we know, however, no official action has, as yet, been taken.

Easy to Send Telegram

To invite greater use of telegrams convenient coin booths are being established in rural and little frequented territories and operate in a manner similar to the telephone pay booths. In sending a wire, one simply lifts the receiver, gives the message to a waiting operator at a central office and deposits the necessary amount of money in the coin box.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water, drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

British Good Turn

In connection with a minor railroad accident at Barnmouth, England, near which boy scouts of Northampton were encamped, the scouts rendered an unusual good turn. It was decided to transfer passengers from several vacationists' trains to other trains, requiring the transfer of some of the luggage. The scouts performed this task efficiently and with celerity.

MENLO PARK

Dr. A. E. Blake, candidate for trustee at the election to be held on November 15, was the first white child born within the corporate limits of the proposed city of Menlo Park, passing his childhood here. He was a relative of the late Robert C. Johnson, whose vast domain contains a portion of Menlo Park. Back in 1853 he arrived in Menlo Park, two young Irishmen, Oliver and McGlynn. They purchased a vast tract of land extending from the San Francisco creek to Valparaiso avenue and running back beyond Holy Cross cemetery. They constructed two imposing gates on the state highway in 1864, that were the admiration of the traveler. On these gates was the inscription "Menlo Park 1864." The big estate was named Menlo Park, after the estate of the two men in Ireland, close to the Hills of Tara, called Menlo Park, and from this the town received its name. In 1859 General George C. Johnson came here and bought the property from Oliver and McGlynn. Johnson was a Norwegian who had made a fortune in shipping supplies and material up the Sacramento river to the mining camps. He afterwards engaged in the steel and iron business in San Francisco. For years he was the Norwegian consul at San Francisco. Mrs. Blake was a niece of the consul's wife and lived here with her aunt.

She was a strikingly beautiful girl and in due time was married to Dr. Charles Blake, Sr. In the country home a quarter of a mile back from the gates that was a show place in those by-gone days the candidate for trustee was born and as a child romped about the big farm then covered with live oaks and a growth of chaparral. Times without number his proud mother carried him in her arms through these gates and to the dwelling wrecked when Camp Fremont was established here. At the death of the general his son, Robert C. Johnson, came into possession of the broad acres that at one time was the envy of the late Senator Stanford who wanted to erect his big university there.

The candidate for trustee in early life went to college and became a dentist, later becoming a physician and surgeon and thirty years ago practiced in Menlo Park, his birthplace. Dr. Blake now lives in a cozy home, only a few hundred yards from the place in which he first saw the light. His mother, who spent her girlhood here is still living and resides in Berkeley and is 84 years old. Dr. Blake is a dignified, cultured gentleman who deserves well at the hands of the electorate of Menlo Park, where he and his family have been identified since 1859. It would be a fitting honor to make him the first mayor of the new municipality.

Alumni Card Party
St. Joseph's Alumni is planning a card game to be held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening, November 23. Turkeys will be given away as prizes. Come and try for one of these birds for Thanksgiving.

Have Moved to the City
Hugh Porter and family have closed their residence on Ringwood road for the winter and have opened their city home. They will return early in the spring.

Leaves for Boston
Mark Loughlin left Wednesday evening for his old home in Boston to be gone for six weeks. He will also visit in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Annual Show Friday
The annual chrysanthemum show held by the Menlo Park Horticultural society took place last Friday in the parish hall of Trinity Episcopal church. Beautiful blooms were exhibited, the finest ever seen in Menlo Park. Prizes were awarded. E. S. Heller, Hugh Porter, A. Taylor, S. Chamberlain, W. H. List, Robert Moore, W. B. Weir. The society is to give a big show next year, county at fair where competition will be keen.

Visitors in San Francisco
Mrs. Charles Hillgruel, a prominent resident of San Francisco and her son is visiting her sister Mrs. Frank Maloney, 25 Pine street.

Rainfall One Inch
The rainfall of Sunday last was one inch, the first of the season. Jupiter Pluvius was quite generous for this time of the year. The rain has done no particular damage, and on the contrary has been of some benefit. It will start the grass, so that the landscape will soon be covered with a carpet of green. Tomatoes are still being picked, strawberries are still being marketed and the grape crop is being shipped to various points. So we must all be grateful to that All Wise Being that doeth all things well and for the best.

Brooding Garage Here
Edward Derry, the local capitalist, is erecting a garage building on his property on Oak Grove avenue, near the Associated Oil company's plant for Orton and Dunn, who conduct the oil station. The garage will be conducted by the two young men who are expert mechanic and experienced garage men. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Lease Cano Cottage
Mr. and Mrs. Henry MacArthur, who have spent a long summer season at their cabin here this year, have just returned to their home in Palo Alto.

Arrives Home from Paris
Adrian Ward arrived home this week from Paris, where he attended the American Legion convention. He had a delightful time. On his way home Ward stopped off at Portland, his former home, to visit his father and mother. He will remain here for some time before launching into business.

Hallowe'en as Usual
The youngsters in town carried on their Hallowe'en pranks Monday night as has been their custom for many years. The destruction of property was no great affair. Boys will be boys and it is well to let them have their fling, provided, however, they do not carry their mischief too far.

"Sally of the Sawdust"
The following is the program for the coming week at Blanco's New Menlo Theatre: Carol Dempster and W. C. Fields in "Sally of the Sawdust," Saturday evening—Jackie Coogan in "The Bugle Call" and Ranger, the dog in "Flaming Fury," Sunday and Monday, Marion Davies in "The Fair Co-ed," Tuesday evening, Ronald Coleman in "Lady Windermere's Fan," Wednesday and Thursday, Rita Tin Tin in "Hills of Kentucky," and Lew Cody and A. Pringle in "Adams and Evil."

Entertainment for Commuters
The Southern Pacific Railroad Company is always doing something for the benefit of its patrons, and particularly for the commuter, but never before has the concern attempted the entertainment of its passengers. This new departure went into effect on the Coast Division a short time ago. Ornamental brass horns have been placed on the exhaust of the engines so that the shrill nerve racking whistle will no longer be heard. Instead a soft musical sound is emitted, that is pleasing to the mind and soothing to the nerves. The tired commuter will be lulled to sleep with its harmonious melody and those living close to the tracks may enjoy their dreams without fear of being awakened. Four new engines are using the horns and soon all of the engines on the division will have these musical instruments that will bring rhythm and harmony to the peninsula residents.

Return to Menlo Park
Major Gen. and Mrs. C. A. Devor have returned to their Menlo Park home after a summer at their Montana ranch. Their two sons-in-law and daughters, Maj. and Mrs. George Brett and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bates, were with them. Mrs. Devor accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bates to their home on Long Island for a month while General Devor remained in Montana for the hunting season. Major Brett, formerly of Crissy Field, is now stationed at Dayton, Ohio.

Death of William Middleton
William Middleton passed away last Saturday at the Community hospital at Berkeley, after a lingering illness of several months. The funeral took place from the Church of the Nativity on Monday morning. The deceased was a native of Australia. He came to Menlo Park in the eighties as a young man. Middleton was highly educated and for a while followed the occupation of clerk and accountant, but finally became a gardener which employment he followed of late years. The interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park. The deceased is survived by a brother, Patrick Middleton, residing at the old home in Australia.

To Hold A Food Sale
Menlo Pastor, N. D. G. W. will hold a food sale in the bank building on Santa Cruz avenue on Saturday, November 12. The sale will be for the benefit of the homeless children. Buy your Sunday supply of pastry and at the same time aid the worthy cause. The parking will hold a card party in the new Masonic hall on Thursday evening, November 17. Good prizes are to be awarded the winners of the game. Admission 25 cents.

I wish to correct the erroneous report which is being circulated that I oppose incorporation. It is absolutely false. I have always favored incorporating Menlo Park. That is the big issue. As a nominee for the clerkship I wish to state my qualifications: I was graduated from the Oregon State Normal School. Also from the Portland Business College. After working in the court house awhile, I opened a stenographic office of my own, doing all kinds of work. For two years I acted in the capacity of Referee Ammanns for the Circuit Judge of a very large district in Eastern Oregon in cases where he could not act in person. For a time I was official court reporter. During the war I passed the Civil Service examination and worked for the government. Since then I have lived in Menlo Park, own my home here and I am vitally interested in the betterment of the town.

Respectfully,
FANNIE I. KURTZ

It is to be hoped that Menlo Park will take her place as an incorporated city of the sixth class, alongside her sister towns on November 15. This is an opportunity for the people to show their progressiveness and vote for incorporation and thereby receive the benefits that other towns of the county are securing. Vote cast your ballot for incorporation. The owner of this paper has always been in favor of incorporation and will always be notwithstanding the propaganda that is being circulated by the opposition.

WOODSIDE

The management of the Woodside Country Club accepted this week the plans for the golf course to be laid out on the club grounds. The estimated cost of the work is $90,000. Work will commence at once and it is expected that the course will be ready by next June. A football game was played on Tuesday between the teams of the Portola School and the Woodside School. The Woodside boys won with a score of 24 to 12.

The Parent-Teacher Association was held on Monday night at a very enjoyable Hallowe'en party given for the young people of the neighborhood. An interesting program was rendered, games appropriate to the occasion were played and refreshments served.
